

Cancer and Careers is on the frontlines providing workplace support to patients and survivors—from finding a job to excelling on the job. The upsurge in the demand for our services, resources, and events tells the story. Your support continues to help us address the needs of a growing and grateful audience.

The following provides a glimpse into the work already in progress for 2023 and in the future.

CONFERENCES ON WORK & CANCER

Held virtually for the fourth time, the Midwest and National Conferences on Work & Cancer continue to address the myriad of issues faced by survivors in the workplace and during a job search. These free, day-long educational events bring together experts in the fields of career/employment, mental health, and more to cover relevant content and resources.

LOOKING AHEAD

Beyond delivering our annual programs and services, including the National & Midwest Conferences, resume reviews, Balancing Work & Cancer Webinars, and financial assistance grants, Cancer and Careers looks forward to continuing to meet our community's needs in Q3 and Q4.

- Conduct annual Harris Poll that will examine the ongoing effects of cancer within the workplace, and further explore the experiences of Black and Hispanic survivors.
- Celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month with Pregúntale a los Expertos (Ask the Experts) four-part live, virtual series, allowing our Spanish-speaking audience to ask their most pressing work and cancer questions.
- Distribute 100 Financial Assistance Grants to patients and survivors in need.
- Host two virtual In-Service Trainings for Healthcare Professionals, which provides accredited sessions on the practical and legal issues patients, survivors, and caregivers face regarding work and cancer.
- The 9th annual West Coast Conference on Work & Cancer will be held virtually on October 21st. The program will also provide 25 laptops to people without a reliable device to support their ability to attend.
